DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 37-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 37, last step, "baking said ferroelectric thin film while it is formed" as now amended, is not supported by the instant specification. See the instant specification, page 30, last paragraph, and page 52, first paragraph for disclosing the baking treatment that is performed after the ferroelectric had been laminated or formed. Not "while it is formed".

This is a new matter rejection.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 37-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2813

In claim 37, last step, "while it is formed" is indefinite since it is unclear as to what does "it" refer to?

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zhang et al., and Takeuchi et al. are cited as of interest.
